Re: United States v. Belle Six
07 Cr. 547 (VM)

Dear Judge Marrero:

The above-captioned matter is currently scheduled for sentencing on May 2, 2008. This date was set as a control date because the defendant, Ms. Six, who has entered into a cooperation agreement with the Government, was not expected to complete her cooperation until an unknown date in the future. Ms. Six's cooperation is expected to include providing testimony in the trial of United States v. Coplan et al., 07 Cr. 453 (SHS).

The Coplan trial has now been scheduled for March 2009. Under the circumstances, the Government respectfully requests that another control date be set, approximately six months hence. If it suits the Court's convenience, we propose Friday, October 10, 2008. At that time, we will report to the Court again on the status of the Coplan matter, and any other relevant scheduling issues.

In the meantime, we enclose for the Court's review a transcript of Ms. Six's plea before Magistrate Judge Freeman.
